Brief news from our Eco-School Council:

This term we are thinking about being thankful and how we are thankful for all the things we got for Christmas, and throughout the year. We have realised we are all very lucky and that we do not need so many toys, games and clothes so we are going to hold a jumble sale.

This way it means we can help reduce the clutter in our rooms, recycle items by selling them and that way our friends can re-use them and less items go in the bin and then to landfill.

We would really appreciate you to have a clear out and send us your jumble. Everyone who donates items gets dojo's and a raffle ticket to win an amazing surprise mystery prize .

Did you know...?

- Textiles and shoes make up 12% of landfill sites
- In 1 year, discarded clothing would fill Wembley Stadium
- The UK produces around 1 million tonnes of textile waste a year
- Currently over 700,000 tonnes of recyclable textiles are landfilled in the UK each year, at least 50% of these could be recycled.
